

GREG SANDERS took a long and winding road through BA, MA and PsyD and works full-time as a psychologist, adjunct professor and is in private practice on the Hawaiian island of Lana'i. He married Peggy Hahn in 1969 and divorced in 1974. He married Sharon Liden in 2000. He has two daughters, one son and five grandkids—all healthy, wealthy and wise! After graduating from Burbank High, he lived in Little Creek, VA; GITMO, San Diego, and Kula, Maui before settling down in Lana'i City. His greatest accomplishment was graduating from the Naval School of Music—the hardest school ever! His favorite memories of Burbank high include stage band and all the great folks in the music and theater departments. "We had some major talents there!"
